COLUMNETTE

By C. D. SHELLEY

Times change. The fellow who looks you squarely in the eye today is merely an experienced crook.

Other presidents have had their terms. There is very little difference in having men nominated who do exactly as they are told, and serving yourself.

The defense program will probably be neglected for the next two years. That is how long the British say they can hold out.

The history of man is a series of ups and downs. The Democrats have twelve years to build up and the Republicans have twelve years to tear down.

The United Georgia Farmers, self-styled protector of the farmer, could do a good job of protecting now by doing something about the vicious ignorance of farm program office workers.

It is truly remarkable how the United States has made progress with the group of citizens who fight tooth and nail against any new idea. Example: Opponents of a third term.

The Roosevelt program of humanitarianism would have been a thousand times more successful if the men who were to carry it out had been a fraction like the president.

The columnists may criticize Mr. Roosevelt from now until doom's day, and they will still have to admit that he is the man who had an original idea in a decade. For instance: Helping the farmer.

Labor unions defeat their purpose when they become dictatorships. The average American worker would prefer liberty and hardships to paying membership fees for the privilege of being bossed.

NEWS FROM FLAT ROCK.

—it is a very long lane that never turns, according to rev. will water. holsum moore dropped a bad quart into the collection plate last month, and it came back into his hands last Friday when he got his only half-dollar changed by a stranger. no friends, look out for it again next sabbath in the collection at reboher if he is there himself. he has almost quit going to church corner out of it having sinners in it.

—mr. art square says that the smartest folks in the world today is the tobacco manufacturers. They bought last year's tobacco crops from the farmers at 40 per cent lower than the 1938 crop fetched, yet they have not cut their prices a single penny on cigarettes or chewing or smoking tobacco, and they possibly never will do so. they know that tobacco is the only real need-essary in today's catfish-gory world, and they know the folks pay and pay, as usual, the farmer takes the loss, and you, the consumer, pay it to the manufacturer.

—the tacky party which was held at mrs. si. skinner's pallial home for terrin missions, last tuesday night was a wallowing success. miss hildie hoskins won the prize, but she said she was not contesting for same and had on her regular sunday things. she is a old maid, her sweet heart never returned from the world war, but is living happy and cozy where he got married on a furlow. she is thru with male characters ansoforth.

—the farmers of the flat rock community are enjoying a good year enduring 1940. used cars is cheaper, farm relief checks will be as big as ever, home-made corn liker can be bought as low as 13 per fruit jar, politicians are scarce this summer, food is cheap and all told, the goose, if any, is hanging high.

—the ladies mission-terry society of reboher church met in ex-cutive session, at the manse last friday night and everbody enjoyed their selves to their heart's content. they have been trying to figure out a place where no war is going on amongst the heathens so they can send their mission-terry there to work. they are doing no good in china and japan and germany and ethi-opy and india, so that leaves only chicago and miami open at this time.

—miss jennie veev smith read a long paper on how to give the tithe, but it never received any applause. mrs. holsum moore said after they got thru paying for what they eat and wore, she lacked about 73 having any tithe left, and that the fellows she traded with on credit were daily losing the tithe. she promised though that she would tithe two hens next spring. mrs. art square offered to tithe ever 10th quart of milk she got from her cows, and mrs. tom head said she would try to tithe the liver out of the hog they were going to butcher enduring next march. tom do not believe in it.

—mrs. pinkie snow spoke a short peace on the mission-terry and her duty to the heathens, the meeting plan is working ok. while food and medicine lasts, but she thinks they ought to move, say 500 heathens over to our country and teach them our systems ansoforth so's they can go back over there and teach the other heathens, thus saving u. the middle man's cost. we would keep the student heathens away from the racket and the politicians while here.

—no hope is being held out for an increase in the old age pensions at our state capitol. the representatives who got in the house on this flat-form now say that they thought the state government had a plenty of money on hands and all they would have to do is to tell the state treasurer who to pay it to, but such is not the case: the highway department is the department that has all of the redy cash, and it is only ready to be spent on highways and bridges.

—a few bills are being put thru the house, so says our local legislator. one bill will make it a mis-misde-meanor to shoot at the same dove twice. another one forbids hunting foxes betwixt july 4th and july 5th. still another act is in the house. it will require barbers to whet their razor betwixt shaves. our local representative will introduce a bill to require all eggs to be dated and then sold by weight within 3 days after being laid.

—our state senate is putting thru a act entitled: "strike out the enacting words." it will be a great help to our farmers, but we don't yet know what the "enacting words" are. they will also pass a resolution to white-wash the highway department again and grant a permit to increase the bonded debt limit so's it can give some of this money to the state departments to keep taxes from being raised. it is also considering a bill to limit the shooting of bull frogs per day to 8 males and 2 females, and only one wild duck.

—the important bills of our legislature will not come up till about august 15th, but they were supposed to adjourn february 20, the governor's message was read and approved and tabled. a low-state application want to investigate all investigating committees, but the up-state will vote it down. all of our farmer legislators hired folks to put their crop in for them at 75 per day, so, at 108 per day, they can work their hired hands a long time, and clear 9.253 per day besides.

—the big barn dance —a big old-style barn dance was held in the wow hall last nite and it was enjoyed by all concerned. the wow hall is not a barn, of course, but it was a barn dance just like them they have on the radio. the boys who played the fiddles and banjos and guitar hollered all of the time enduring their music so's nobody would find out whether they were playing tunes or just making a big noise. straw and shocks and cobs were scattered on the floor to make everthing look like a barn, alio a male was tied outside with his head poked out with his head poked out.

—moran moore, secont son of hon. and mesdame holsum moore, called the sets; he sounded like a hen for the first time of the hog they were going to butcher enduring next march. tom do not believe in it.

—mrs. pinkie snow spoke a short peace on the mission-terry and her duty to the heathens, the meeting plan is working ok. while food and medicine lasts, but she thinks they ought to move, say 500 heathens over to our country and teach them our systems ansoforth so's they can go back over there and teach the other heathens, thus saving u. the middle man's cost. we would keep the student heathens away from the racket and the politicians while here.

—a right sad accident happened at this party. mr. sim chane jr. was swinging his partner when a bottle fell out of his hip-pocket and he stumbled over it and fell on top of it and cut a big gash on the calf of his left leg. it was a total loss, and dr. hubbert green took 9 stitches on the calf. he was not able to enjoy the festivities any further. he do not know who slipped the said bottle into his pocket ansoforth.

Patrons To Utilize Register Cannery

A number of patrons of the Register community are planning to prepare at the canning plant such products as corn, tomatoes and soup to be donated to the school lunch room.

These products will be used to furnish free lunches for under-privileged children in Register school next year.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week has been set as days for canning these products. However, any time the plant is in operation products may be canned for this purpose.

Anyone wishing to co-operate in this movement will furnish the labor for putting the products into the cans. The cost of cans, sealing and processing will be paid for by the school lunch fund.

It is hoped that a large number of Register patrons will take advantage of this opportunity to contribute to this worthy cause.

TEN YEARS of Crimson Clover
Georgia's new respect for her fertile acres is dramatically illustrated in the ten-year history of crimson clover in the state. As a means of checking soil erosion and increasing the yield of crops, as recently as 1929 only 25,602 pounds of crimson clover seed were planted by Georgia farmers. In 1939—with Hart county showing an outstanding example of leadership—more than 1,750,000 pounds of crimson clover seed were planted in the state. It's facts like these, which show Georgia's reawakening to her real dependence on a progressive agriculture, which give our state her great future promise—and bid fair to keep her on the forward march.

NEWS OF THE WEEK OVER THE NATION

Happenings That Affect Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of People.

The acridly polite debate recently carried on between the United States and German governments concerning the Monroe doctrine reveals that this traditional American policy is subject to widely varying interpretations. It is also evident that Hitler is giving the doctrine an interpretation which was never imagined by President Monroe.

The Monroe doctrine did not come into existence as a long considered, carefully thought out statement of U. S. policy. Rather, it was swiftly conceived to meet a condition which, in 1823, menaced the sovereignty of this nation. At that time the three great European states of Russia, Prussia and Austria had formed a "holy alliance" to crush a revolution in Spain, and were casting covetous glances on Spain's many possessions in the Western Hemisphere. In addition, Russia, which then owned Alaska, was attempting to dominate the northwestern coast of this continent in the interest of her merchant ships.

So President Monroe issued an official warning in which he said that the Americas "are henceforth not to be considered as subjects of future colonization by any European powers." In other words, the status quo was to be maintained so far as Europe was concerned. Afterwards, the policy which had been declared to meet the emergency of the moment, became a convenient instrument for protecting American interests in subsequent crises. We invoked it to drive the French from Mexico after the Civil War, to give the U. S. absolute instead of divided control over the Panama Canal, and to force England to come to terms when a border fight arose between Venezuela and British Guiana.

Today it is obvious that the doctrine is to be used to provide legal grounds for preventing the Axis powers from seizing new world possessions belonging to the democracies. Germany has met this challenge by asserting that the doctrine must work two ways if others are expected to observe it—that, in brief, the U. S. must stop interfering with European affairs if Europe is to keep out of the Americas. And here is where the vast difference of interpretation appears. For the doctrine, as we have always understood and applied it, deals only with physical transfers of territory, not with political activity. We have never denied to apply the doctrine to the work in our sphere of influence. Hitler seems to want to interpret the doctrine to include "moral suasion" no less than military force.

In addition, high German officials have intimated that they deem it proper to apply the Monroe doctrine of their own to Central Europe. They argue they have as much right to do this as we have to apply the original doctrine throughout the Americas. And again, there is a great difference in interpretation. For we have not used the doctrine. For we have not used the doctrine. For we have not used the doctrine. For we have not used the doctrine.

It is highly doubtful if the securities markets will long follow the rising production index. Reason: Profits will be severely limited. There is general sentiment in opposition to making war millions of dollars to carry on a program which will necessarily impose will be almost incredible. The new taxes passed this year are but a modest start. We haven't seen anything yet, for we are starting a defense program under the handicap of a $45,000,000,000 peacetime federal debt, which far exceeds our World War debt.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENTS.
For the past several years the city has been very lenient in the collection of taxes, business licenses, water bills and other obligations due them. The purpose of this policy was to give the city a chance to accumulate of past due obligations which if collected would serve to relieve the depressed condition of the city's finances. We are unable to see where it is right and proper for the great city of Statesboro to pay the obligations promptly while others are permitted to carry past due balances almost indefinitely.

NIX TAKES RECESS GO TO CONVENTION

Athens Candidate Pledges Self To The Fullest Co-Operation National Administration.

Atlanta, July 16.—Abit Nix recessed his campaign for governor this week long enough to attend the National Democratic convention in Chicago, which he was one of the delegates from Georgia.

Mr. Nix threw his weight behind the movement to draft President Roosevelt for a third term. In a campaign address just before leaving the state, he made it plain that Georgians must elect a governor and will co-operate with the national administration in all respects toward the welfare of the nation.

"One state in the forty-eight, because of a defiant and quarrelsome governor, can throw the whole picture of national unity out of focus," he declared. "In the present crisis there is no time for petty bickerings and selfish actions on the part of any of our states."

"I pledge myself to full co-operation with the president." The Athens candidate also drew a parallel between the bayonet government started eight years ago to the growth of Hitler's power in Europe. "This government by guns grows by degrees," he said. "We are many miles from Europe, but we have seen things happen during the past eight years right here in Georgia that is shocking every citizen. We have seen nineteen office holders thrown out by the militia. I believe that when a man is elected by the people to head a state department, he should have the right to serve those people, whether he agrees with the governor on everything, or not."

Mr. Nix said that never would the troops be called out to settle a matter within the state house, if he is elected governor.

The candidate plans a wide speaking tour over the state upon his return from the national convention. He wants every voter to know, he said, the real issues of importance in this race.

Between Us

The Arthur Howard yard was turned into a literal fairland when Mrs. Howard gave a garden tea. Those in the receiving line and assisting her in entertaining were four-length dresses in pastel shades. Three attractive daughters with their mother to welcome the guests, and three equally attractive daughters-in-law to assist. The tea gave Sadie Maude Moore's friends a chance to welcome her home from Korea, and truly she was lovely in an aqua lace afternoon dress. Sadie Maude is not on a furlough, but came on a leave to be with her mother, who has been sick. She says her plans for leaving are very indefinite, and may stay on during the winter, though she has no definite plans to leave. Maude, Bobby Bretz, another of our girls in the foreign field who lives in Hungary, writes very interestingly of their work. She has a young daughter who takes up quite a bit of her time, and still has time for her mother. Just when we begin to feel all settled over our young married people making Statesboro their home, comes the report that young John and Sally Mooney are leaving for at least a year. John is going to Benning for training, and Sally is going to the army. The Mooney home is one who came and won the hearts of both young and old in our town, and we hope to see them again soon. The club are active again in spite of our hot weather. The Owens family, who are in town were invited with original invitations to meet at the court house square at 9 o'clock Thursday morning. From there they went to several homes, ending at Willie's, where they were served delightful refreshments. Later, the Owens family proved the most active one in the club, and from all indications they will not fall short this time. It gives us new-comers in town a chance to get acquainted and to feel a real genuine welcome in the club. Little Denny, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Wilson, of Valdosta, spent several days during the week with his sister, Mrs. Arthur Howard, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Strickland Holloway and Foster Holloway spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Holloway Sr., at Cobtown.

Mrs. Poole, of Cumming, returned yesterday to her home after a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Beppard DeLoach, and Mr. DeLoach.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Turner, Miss Julie Turner, Mrs. Walter Brown and Miss Margaret Carmichael were visitors to Savannah Beach Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hodges, Misses Sara Lou, Martha Evelyn, Betty Grace and Jane Hodges, returned from a trip to points in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana.

Miss Sara Poindexter has returned from a visit to Miss Martha Cowart in Atlanta. She was accompanied by Miss Cowart, who will be her guest for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Holder spent several days during the week as the guest of Miss Lila Howard. Miss Howard spent the week end at Crescent as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Holden.

Mrs. J. M. Lee, of Baker, Fla.; Mrs. Minnie Miller, of Savannah, and Mrs. H. M. Teets, of Savannah. Guests were greeted on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard, on South Main street, by Mrs. R. L. Cone, and were received by Mrs. Howard, the honor guests, and Mrs. Mamie Lou Kennedy, Miss Lila Howard, Mrs. James Auld, of Savannah, Miss Katherine Lee, Miss Sadie Maude Moore and Mrs. Billie Simmons. An attractive arrangement of summer flowers was used about the grounds, and punch and sandwiches were served by Misses Mary Frances Groover, Sara Alice Bradley, Lorena Durden, Betty Jean Cone, Mary Virginia Groover, Prueella Cromartie and Dorothy Ann Kennedy. The punch was served from large blocks of ice. Violin, accordion and vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Marion Carpenter, Mrs. Z. S. Henderson and Mrs. Waldo Floyd. Others assisting in entertaining were Mesdames Fred T. Lanier, J. M. Norris, Dew Groover, A. J. Bowen, Charles Howard, Claude Howard, Ruth Howard, W. M. Hagin, M. E. Alderman and Rufus Evans. A large number of guests called.

HONORS Mrs. MATHIS

Mrs. George Mathis, whose marriage occurred in the city and who was the honor guest at a delightful party Friday evening given by Mrs. Robert Benson at her home on South Main street. Roses and zinnias formed decorations, and chicken salad, cream puffs and a drink were served. Mrs. D. C. Proctor wore hose for high noon, who lives near Stillson; Johnson was captured by William Cannady and Horace Jones near Ludowick. A family reunion was held at the home of A. Scarborough; all children present except J. A. Scarborough, who lives in Atlanta and Mrs. W. W. MARKET TOBACCO NEAR YOUR HOME

Marketing Specialist Advises Growers to Patronize Their Local Warehousemen

Tobacco growers will profit by selecting a warehouseman as near home as possible and sell their tobacco with him day after day, and after that, the warehouseman will carry their crop to other markets. He explained that the averages shown from day to day in the papers did not tell the story. Tobacco in one section might be better than in another, but over a period of years the man that sells on the nearest market and patronizes the same warehousemen will profit.

Mr. Donaldson said that he bought tobacco for twenty-five years and that he never learned to expect certain farmers to have their tobacco on a certain floor and looked out for them. Farmers that go to different markets cannot become a part of the warehouseman's business. The warehouseman does not know him and naturally does not expect to see him again. Then, too, if the tobacco sells too low it is difficult to get any adjustment on the sale, according to Mr. Donaldson.
